

MURDERS FORMER WIFE, THEN SHOOTSELF

VETERANS, YOUNG AND OLD, JOIN IN MAMMOTH PARADE

WITH RANKS THINNED, MEN IN BLUE MARCH PROUDLY TO MARTIAL MUSIC

Intense Heat Does Not Prevent Thousands From Joining in Impressive Ceremonies

New Officers for State Department Installed—Business Draws to Close

With flags flying, bands playing and the air charged with patriotic fervor, the "Thin Line of Blue" marched down Market street this afternoon in what will probably be the last parade of Civil War veterans in Lima.

Side by side with these veterans who had served the Union marched the "boys" of '98 and those who had fought that free people might continue to enjoy their rights to freedom in the last war.

It was an impressive sight, in many cases fathers and sons representing the two greatest wars of our nation.

Undaunted by the scorching heat of a mid-summer sun, persistent in its intensity, and cruelly hot, thousands of eager spectators lined Main street to do homage to these venerable and courageous heroes of the Rebellion.

Forming at Wayne and Main streets at 1:30 the parade included not only the many hundred G. A. A. veterans, but the younger veterans of the more recent war.

Automobiles decorated in patriotic colors were a special feature of the parade, as it wended its way thru the densely packed throng on Main street.

Company A., of Columbus and Company B., of Newark, Old Guards spurned the proffered automobiles and valiantly and defiantly braved the heat and miles and strode along with the spirit and dash of the heroes they were in '61.

It was a stirring scene. Old veterans, many of whom may not round out another year, many who will live on for several years, but all old, very old, they portrayed the great lapse of time between the days of slavery and the present. It was these self-same men who had faced shell and shot in the bitter war of the country, when brother fought brother, and the destiny of this new republic was definitely saved.

Starting at Wayne street and Main the parade marched south to Kibby street and then counter-marched to the public square where a hollow square was formed in front of the reviewing stand.

In the absence of Governor Cox who announced that he was too ill to be present at the occasion, S. S. Wheeler, chairman of the Red Cross department of Allen county, made the presentation speech and tendered the medals of honor to the returned veterans of the recent war.

OFFICERS INSTALLED.
"Altho my official connection with the G. A. R. is at an end," said ex-commander D. M. Hall, at the installation of new officers at the Memorial Hall Thursday morning, "I expect to be an active member of that organization, and so long as I am living, and there is a Grand Army, you may command me."

Rev. H. C. Martindale was officially installed as department commander for the year, and he made one or two appointments, but requested that the bulk of the appointments be left until his first report in order to give him sufficient time to scatter the appointments over as wide a territory within the state as possible.

H. D. Hefner, commander of Mart Armstrong post was also installed as senior vice commander and W. G. Alexander, a member of the Akron post, but living in Toledo, where he is commander of the Toledo Power Boat Club, was installed as junior vice commander.

W. S. Mathews was appointed adjutant general for the 11th consecutive year. Chas. H. Newton of Marietta, last department commander, appointed Mathews in 1909 and he has been re-appointed every year.

William Hahn, of Columbus was appointed chief of staff; Alfred Garner, was appointed patriotic instructor; Chaplain Tibboles, was named as chaplain elect, succeeding Chaplain Burdell; and Dr. John M. Adams was elected medical director for the department for the year.

It was moved at the time that the name of the Sons of the American Revolution be changed to Sons of the Grand Army of the Republic.

perpetuate the Grand Army, but we can at least perpetuate the name of the Grand Army by thus permitting its use by the Sons of Veterans.

The matter will be taken to the National Encampment at Columbus this year, and will probably become National.

By a unanimous vote Rev. H. C. Martindale, of the Memorial Post, Cleveland, was elected commander of the Ohio department, succeeding D. M. Hall as highest official in the G. A. R.

Dr. J. King Gibson, who was a candidate for the office, withdrew just prior to the election.

W. D. Hefner, commander of the Mart Armstrong post, of Lima, was elected senior vice commander, while W. G. Alexander, of Toledo, was elected junior vice commander.

Business of the encampment week is drawing to a close with location for the 1920 encampment made.

Laura B. Cherry, of Mansfield, was elected commander of the Ohio department of the Women's Relief Corps. Grace L. Johnson, of Toledo; Sarah B. Richter, Cincinnati, and Emma Godwin, Cleveland, were also candidates for the presidency.

Business sessions were resumed Thursday morning to finish whatever matters were pending, but all interest was turned to the parade, which is the leading feature for the day.

Wednesday night the ball of Sons of Veterans and Auxiliary at the Elks' home was largely attended.

Thursday night a large ball will be held at Memorial Hall, to which all veterans, both civil and world war, and their ladies will be welcome. Special music and features have been arranged to make this the most attractive occasion of the encampment week.

COL. COLE SPEAKS.

In an address at the Memorial Hall Wednesday evening before an assemblage of veterans of the Civil War, Colonel Ralph D. Cole, 37th Division characterized the alien who refused to shoulder a gun for the country that gave him lucrative employment, as breeders of disloyalty, declaring they have no part in the fruits of peace.

That America will have fought in vain if this country enters the league of Nations is the opinion of Colonel Cole. "Let us not transfer the sovereignty of America to assist Europe in which we have but one of Bolshevism. Let us not give the right to declare war to a body in Europe in which we have but one representative. We must take time for deliberation. We must protect those institutions for which we soldiers have fought," he said.

In a second talk at the Memorial Hall, the colonel portrayed to a large attendance practically the same sentiments and thoughts expressed in his first address.

Gale M. Saltzgeber followed Colonel Cole in a lengthy discussion of the pension system, replete with details and data he had secured.

Other addresses were delivered by H. O. Bentley, attorney of this city, and Mrs. Emogene Marshall state president of the Woman's Relief Corps. Vocal selections were rendered by Mrs. Viola Jalbraith.

A telegram announcing the inability of Senator Warren G. Harding, who was to have appeared on the program, to arrive in Lima was read by Chairman Carl F. Rowlands.

ENCAMPMENT NOTES

Ex-commander Dan M. Hall, who was succeeded by Rev. H. C. Martindale Thursday morning as department commander is a victim of circumstance.

Last year at the encampment he was installed as commander following the annual parade, while this year he went out of office prior to the parade.

In other words, he was not commander during a Grand Army annual parade.

Charles H. Newton, past department commander, whose home is in Marietta, was an interested delegate at the business meetings at Memorial Hall.

"I have never missed either a department or national encampment," he said, "as I take my vacation at that time of the year from the bank where I have been an officer for 42 years." Newton is president of the Marietta bank.

COMPERS LEADS BIG LABOR PARADE WHICH PROTESTS AGAINST PROHIBITION JULY 1

A giant demonstration by labor men and others was staged recently in Washington as a protest against prohibition July 1. President Samuel Compers of the American Federation of Labor led the procession which marched to the steps of the capitol. The marchers carried American flags to show their loyalty to the U. S. while making the protest.

SENATE VOTES 55 TO 11 AGAINST LIFTING BAN ON BEER AND WINES

Test Vote is Taken on Proposed Modification of War-Time Prohibition

Results From Attempt to Attach Rider to Agricultural Bill

WASHINGTON.—Any possibility of congress repealing or modifying wartime prohibition, which goes into effect July 1, went glimmering.

The senate by a vote of 55 to 11 refused to sanction a modification of the law permitting the manufacture and sale of beer and wine from July 1 until constitutional prohibition goes into effect in January, 1920.

WILSON LAST HOPE.

President Wilson is now the last remaining hope of the "wets" for even some of the "dry" leaders concede the executive possesses the power to declare the wartime prohibition act null and void upon the termination of demobilization, which will occur before July 1.

PUT TO TEST.

The action in the senate was the result of an attempt by Senator Phelan of California to attach to the agricultural appropriation bill a rider modifying wartime prohibition so as to permit the manufacture and sale of beer and wine after July 1. He moved to suspend the rules and declare the rider in order, and Chairman Gronna of the committee on agriculture moved to table the Phelan motion. With the prohibitionists voting for the Gronna motion to table and the anti-prohibitionists against it, the lineup was:

For beer and wine: Republicans—Calder, Edge, France, Knox, La Follette, Wadsworth—6. Democrats—King, Phelan, Reed, Thomas, Williams—5.

Against beer and wine: Republican—Ball, Borah, Capper, Cummins, Curtis, Elkins, Fernald, Frelinghuysen, Gronna, Hale, Jones (Wash.), Kenyon, Keyes, Lenroot, McCormick, McCumber, McNary, Moses, Nelson, New, Newberry, Norris, Page, Phipps, Poindexter, Sherman, Smart, Spencer, Sutherland, Warren—30.

Democrats—Beckman, Chamberlain, Dial, Fletcher, Harris, Harrison, Henderson, Johnson, (S. D.), Jones (N. M.), Kendrick, Kirby, McKellar, Nugent, Overman, Pittman, Pomerene, Robinson, Sheppard, Simmons, Smith (Ark.), Smith (Ga.), Swanson, Trammell, Walsh (Mont.) Walcott—25.

AMBULANCE REMOVALS.

Mrs. John Reichelderfer was removed from her home at 334 S. Pine street, to the City hospital, in the Siford ambulance, this morning. Harold Parke was removed from his home at 1203 S. Main street to the City Hospital in the Siford ambulance this morning.

Will Get $1,500,000 For Bombers' Hunt

WASHINGTON.—Government plans to thwart the reported plot to terrorize the country with bombs on July 4, were rapidly being completed today.

The house began consideration of the proposition to grant Attorney General Palmer an extra $500,000 he asked to rid the country of the radical menace. The granting of the sum, which was deemed certain by house leaders, will give Palmer a total of $1,500,000 for the work of hunting the reds, who Palmer told the house appropriations committee, "plan to destroy the government at one full swoop."

DR. HASELDEN IS TAKEN BY DEATH

CHICAGO.—Dr. Henry J. Haiselden, physician who won international fame because of his decision in the "Bollinger baby" case, died of cerebral hemorrhage in Cuba yesterday, according to information received by relatives today.

Dr. Haiselden was one of the first American physicians to advocate sterilization of defectives. He was a believer in the theory that criminal tendencies and insanity could be eliminated by brain operations.

In the "Bollinger baby" case, news of which was read in all parts of the country, Haiselden decided the baby was defective and that it would be better for the child and the race to let it die. He refused to operate.

WOULD BAN ALIEN

LABOR FEDERATION FAVORS RESTRICTION OF IMMIGRATION

ATLANTIC CITY.—The American Federation of Labor convention went on record today as favoring restriction of immigration from Europe for a period of three years.

The action followed a long and acrimonious debate, in which various factions attempted to obtain concessions in their favor. Irish delegates sought exception for Ireland, while Seattle radicals insisted on favor of Russia Secretary Morrison, however, swept the convention into concurrence with the exclusion resolution by an appeal for Jewish soldiers and a declaration that capitalists were seeking to import contract labor.

Divorced Man Enraged When Woman Declines to Re-Marry Him and Fires Three Bullets Into Her Body

Perpetrator of Crime May Live, Altho Physician Is Doubtful—Murder Charge Is Filed By Chief

Following less than a year of married life filled with frequent visits to police court, Carl Hollenbacher, acetylene welder, recently divorced, brought to a close the story of his married life, when he shot and killed his former wife, at 9 o'clock this morning at the home of her mother, 138 South Park street.

Chagrined because of her refusal to re-marry him, he turned a revolver upon her and fired three shots into her body. Then he fired a fourth into his brain. He may live.

Since his marriage to the woman June, 1918, their life had been one filled with disputes, culminating in the tragedy of today. Continual quarrels had made Hollenbacher a well known character in police court, while charges of ill treatment and brutality were made against him frequently by her, according to Judge Botkin of the police court. Finally the wife brought suit for divorce and was granted a decree just a week ago.

Frequent visits were made to her home by Hollenbacher according to Mrs. Annetta Burgess, mother of Mrs. Hollenbacher, but Mrs. Burgess had never remained in the house while he was there, she said.

"He came this morning," she told the News, "and asked my girl to marry him again. I heard her tell him that she didn't want to because she said that they had never gotten along well together, and that she was afraid to try again."

"He didn't say much except that he was going down town and would be back to get his books," continued Mrs. Burgess. "And he did come back about 9 o'clock. Then he shot her."

Eye witnesses of the tragedy could not hear what went on between the two just previous to the shooting, they say. Scott Harris, a neighbor, living next door, at 132 South Park said that he saw Hollenbacher advance towards his wife and pull out the pistol.

"Don't Carl, don't," she cried to him, said Harris, and attempted to protect herself by lunging at him. But it was too late. Three bullets entered her body, one above each lung and the third penetrating the brain.

Mrs. Hollenbacher's daughter by her first husband, a little eleven year old girl, Iola Painter by name, came running out of the house when she heard the shots. She flung herself upon her mother in an attempt to revive her, but without avail. Then the aged mother of Mrs. Hollenbacher came out into the back yard, and ran to the aid of her daughter. Blood stains were to be seen on the old woman's dress, where the head of her daughter had lain until the ambulance came.

Meanwhile Hollenbacher had walked to the back of a woodshed in the yard and had fired the fourth shot, that wounded him.

The Williams and Davis and the Schuller and Hook ambulance arrived on the scene. The dead body of Mrs. Hollenbacher was removed to the Williams and Davis morgue and Hollenbacher was taken to the city hospital for treatment.

Chief of Police Roush arrived on the scene and gathered evidence against Hollenbacher. Upon searching his clothes, a bottle of carbolic acid and a box of cartridges to fit the revolver were found. These will be used against him as evidence in a charge of first degree murder should he live.

Hollenbacher was just recently bound over to the grand jury on a charge of arson. It was alleged that he had attempted to burn down a woodshed in the rear of the home of his former mother-in-law. He was out on bond.

ALLIES WAIT ON PEACE OR WAR VERDICT

Decision Rests With German Assembly Now in Session to Decide Question

Foch at Headquarters Ready to Strike If Enemy Rejects Treaty

PARIS.—The eyes of the world were focused upon the little town of Weimar today, where one of the most momentous decisions in history was in the making.

With the allied armies and the British navy prepared to move simultaneously upon Germany if she refuses to sign the peace treaty, the German delegates, cabinet and national assembly were gathered in Weimar, debating whether it shall be peace or war. Their verdict must be reached before 7 p. m. Monday, the "zero hour" fixed by the allies when they submitted their reply to the German counter-proposals at Versailles.

ON WAR FOOTING

The British navy, according to official advices today, has joined Marshal Foch's forces in readiness for resumption of hostilities, if that is the German's decision. Dispatches from British sources stated the navy had been put on a war footing and that leaves had been revoked. The British dreadnoughts R-32 and R-34 were reported cruising over the German coast, at regions, as a demonstration of allied preparedness. Both airships were said to be heavily armed with bombs and machine guns.

Copenhagen reported the arrival of British destroyers and cruisers in the Baltic, in addition to the fleet already operating against the Bolsheviks off Petrograd. Several destroyers, the Copenhagen dispatches said, started toward the German coast late yesterday on a secret mission.

Reports from various sources yesterday and today indicated the British naval authorities already had undertaken re-establishment of the German blockade. President Wilson, however, instructed American merchant vessels to ignore a British order to cease discharging cargoes in German ports, as well as an order to American warships to cooperate in resumption of the blockade.

FOCH AT HEADQUARTERS

Foch was understood to be at his headquarters in Luxembourg, from which central points he could direct the forward sweep of his armies into Germany, along the entire front from Holland to Switzerland. His force of nearly a million men on this front, in the event of resumption of the war, would be augmented by the Polish and Czech-Slovak armies, which would attack Germany from the east and south, according to authoritative information.

Dispatches from both Weimar and Berlin indicate a division among the Germans over acceptance of the new terms. The peace delegates are said to be unanimously against the treaty. The cabinet appears to be split, while the national assembly apparently favors signing. The press also is divided.

WETS PLAN DRIVE

Ohio "Liberals" to Submit Amendments to Voters

COLUMBUS.—Wets here today announced they will submit two proposed constitutional amendments to the voters next November through the initiative.

One will repeal state-wide prohibition and shall define non-intoxicating liquors as containing two and three quarters per cent or less of alcohol.

The other merely defines non-intoxicating liquors as in the first amendment. Should the people reject the first and accept the second near-beers and light wines could be sold if they contain less than two and three quarters per cent alcohol.

DEMAND HALT ON BOUT AT TOLEDO

Sunday School Convention Asks Cox to Forbid Willard-Dempsey Fight

AKRON.—Three thousand delegates to the Ohio Sunday school convention in session here, unanimously adopted the executive committee resolution demanding that Gov. Cox forbid the holding of the Willard-Dempsey fight at Toledo, July 4, on the ground that it is in "violation of the state statutes, a desecration of our national holiday and injurious to the public morals and welfare of the state."

One hundred thousand printed copies of the resolution will be distributed in all protestant churches of the state to be signed and mailed to the governor as a protest of churchgoers against the fight.

The following officers were elected last night:

President Dr. W. G. Clippinger, Westerville; vice-presidents, Dr. W. O. Drake, Fort Thomas Ky, Rev. C. P. O. Thompson, Columbus, Horace Hargraves, Columbus; E. W. Allen, Fostoria; Treasurer John P. Aiken, Bellefontaine; recording secretary, W. E. Holmes, Granville; executive committee Dr. M. G. Phillips, Chillicothe; G. P. Hunsicker, Williamsport; L. T. Loose, Napoleon; Fred L. Pauly, Lebanon; August Faehl, New Bremen; Edmund F. Arras, Columbus; W. J. Frank, Akron; J. M. Prugh, Dayton; C. E. Hommeyer, Cincinnati; H. P. Rodewig, Bellaire; International committee: W. A. Eudaly, Middletown; Dr. W. G. Clippinger, Westerville; C. F. Strecker, Marietta. Division committee chairman: childrens, Miss Alta Taylor, Akron; young people's, Fred W. Freeman, Columbus; adult, Mrs. Georgia Lee Young, Toledo; educational, Dr. Frankham McElfresh, Columbus.

The convention will close tonight. Hamilton was selected as the meeting place in 1920.

WOULD DETACH PROPERTY.

ST. MARYS.—A proposal to detach its property from the municipal limits to avoid paying the corporate tax rate, was filed by the Quickwork company, an important industrial concern, with the municipal council. Lack of fire protection and police authority with incidental high insurance, is the reason given for the request. The ordinance of detachment was given its first reading.

ONCE QUEEN OF SHEBA'S LAND IS NOW NEW NATION

The Kingdom of Hejaz, Birthplace of Mahomet, Realm of Bedouins

WASHINGTON — One of the most interesting of the new nations, to which the war gave birth, is the Kingdom of Hejaz, bordering on the Red Sea in the Arabian peninsula.

Hejaz has been recognized as an independent Arabian kingdom by the great powers of Europe, inasmuch as Prince Faisal, third son of King Hussien, has been admitted as a delegate to the Peace Conference at Paris.

This establishment of an Arabian kingdom may be regarded as the latest flowering of a political ideal 13 centuries old; for the "Arabia for the Arabians" movement was started by the prophet Mahomet and has been kept alive by his followers and descendants ever since.

REALM OF SHEBA There was an Arabian nation long before Mahomet, one of the first known Arabian sovereigns having been the beautiful "Queen of Sheba," who visited and captivated Solomon.

It was Mahomet who first unified Arabia. After his death, various dynasties rose and fell in this ancient land, and it finally came under the power of the Ottoman Empire, which retained control until the war.

Turkish rule was never accepted by the Arabians, and was especially repugnant to the wild desert tribes of the Bedouins, who have always been a free and unconquered people.

It is these Bedouins who have kept alive the love of freedom, and they still cherish the ancient virtues which gave the early Arabian kingdoms their strength.

DESERT WANDERERS Although nomads, the Bedouins are nomads of the high type, and it must be remembered that they live in a country which will not support any but a nomadic existence. They are forced to follow their herds from place to place in search of grass and water.

Their tents are said to be the most complete and comfortable portable homes in the world, and they have carried the domestication of the camel to a wonderful perfection.

When rains cover the deserts with grass, they live for many days at a stretch without water, the milk of the camels taking its place, not only as human food and drink but also as drink for their fine Arabian horses.

CITY OF SIN The people of Mecca, the principal city, do not share in the freedom, simplicity of taste, and primitive virtue of the Bedouins.

Mecca is famous for its vices and corruption. Those born in the sacred city wear three scars on the cheek generally regarded as a mark of viciousness.

The Meccans live largely off the pilgrims, who come to Mecca in great numbers because it is the birthplace of Mahomet. Even the drinking water, which is free to the townsmen, is sold to the pilgrims for a high price.

OTTAWA GIRL TO WED

OTTAWA — Formal announcement has been made of the engagement of Bertha, daughter of Hy. Reed, Sr., Ottawa, and Beardsley Krauss, Columbus Grove, the wedding to be an event of June 30.

AWAKENING IS DUE TO CHINA

Coolies in France Will Play Main Part, It Is Declared

NEW YORK — Dr. W. W. Peter, formerly a physician in Toledo thinks that the 140,000 Chinese coolies among whom he works in France will become a tremendous factor in the New China.

Peters did medical work for years in the interior of China. He went to France as a Y. M. C. A. worker among the Chinese in the war.

"These coolies at the base ports, and on the battlefields of France, are going back East as interpreters of western civilization," he says. "They will carry back discontent with the old order."

"When they enlisted they were probably getting $8 a month and food; they had nothing but the clothes on their backs; they lived in unsanitary shacks or houses."

"They began watching and studying. They got new clothes."

"They saw organization and what it accomplished; methods that got things done in a hurry. And among these Chinese are men of learning who hold university degrees. They are helping the coolies to understand the West."

When a Girl Marries

By ANN LISLE

Neal leaped to his feet and stood rigid—at attention.

Fifteen minutes before I had seen Phoebe standing like this with the jade necklace lying at her feet. And now, with my heart feeling as if it were clamped to the middle of my throat, I turned, knowing what to expect.

But, as a matter of fact, I hadn't known quite what to expect. There in the doorway as I had, of course, guessed—stood Phoebe. But such a different Phoebe.

Above a sophisticated centre parting her hair was drawn from her little ears and piled high in a great puff of curls. From those ears, reddened slightly at the lobes, hung her jade earrings. Her lips and cheeks were reddened too, and her wide, wistful eyes were narrowed and hardened by the black lines drawn under them to elongate them. She had wrapped herself in her coral-colored Peignoir and over it hung her jade necklace.

She looked very beautiful and very worldly and very ridiculous, poor baby.

Neal stood staring at her, and for a second she stared back. For all their absurd paint her lips had a childish sweetness and a pathetic droop. In a moment or two that was gone. And Phoebe came forward, both hands swung out in a welcome that lost all savor and flavor for the words that rendered it meaningless. "Lieutenant Hyland! This is a nice surprise," she said in one of those near-cordial voices that sound like a smothered yawn.

Still Neal stared at her, far too much the boy to make this out, and far too honest to pretend that he understood what was Greek to him.

Phoebe flung up her arms with an accompanying shrug of the shoulders that a motion picture director might have worked long to secure from his star "vamp."

"How embarrassing! The man has forgotten me," she cried. "Anne, do tell Lieutenant Hyland that he's not to be here."

I wanted to take her by the shoulders and shake her. I wanted to cry out:

"Fine amateur theatricals! If you've been rehearsing them for the last month, consider that you've made a triumphant hit in this new role and spare us more."

But of course I couldn't do that. However much Phoebe humiliated Neal before me, I couldn't shame her before him or reduce her to the rank of a naughty little girl playing "lady" in clothes borrowed from mamma without permission.

"Oh, Phoebe!" cried Neal. It was fairly wrung from him and the honest longing of it seemed certain to break down the barrier of Phoebe's hurt pride, if I decided to get out of the room and leave them alone to find each other again. "Excuse me," I said; "I must go."

and mumbled something about airing the beds.

I fairly ran across the room and, brushing past Phoebe, I noticed that she was swaying a little on her feet. In another second I would have been gone; but the phone chose that particular moment to shrill out—and never more harshly.

"I'll answer," I stammered, and rushed to the telephone.

"Hello, that you, Mrs. Jimmie?" came Dick West's voice over the telephone. "We just had a long-distance from friend husband. He won't be in till late to-night. I've fixed up another little party for you."

"You and Phoebe will dine with me, then we'll meet my sister and her fiancé at the theatre and Jimmie'll join us in the box as soon as he gets in. And now may I speak to Phoebe?"

"I'm sorry, I can't dine with you—or go to the theatre. I'm busy to-night," I cried nervously.

"Oh—plans of your own?"

The instructions Dick West managed to get into those five words made me positively ill.

"My brother's in town—unexpectedly," I returned coldly.

"Bring him along. Show him the city," said Mr. West, with expansive cordiality.

"I'd rather—be with the family, this first night," I said, getting nearer zero every minute.

"Well—that's me. In the business family and ready to be in the crowd all along the line. I'll fix it with Phoebe. You're coming! Jim will be in a fine way if you're not in the box when he gets there. Now let me speak to the little girl."

All through this conversation I had been annoyingly conscious that there was no murmur of voices in the room, that Phoebe and Neal were silent, pretending politely that they wanted to avoid disturbing me.

"You can't speak to her just now," I said. "Please call again in an hour."

On the words, Phoebe darted across the room to my side, intermingling her voice with the one coming over the phone.

"That's for me—I'll speak to him," she said, her hand on mine, but I clicked the receiver back on the hook, and slipped past her into the other room.

ANTI-AMERICAN PROPAGANDA IN BERLIN GOES ON

Complaint Made of Food Furnished by U. S. Writer Points Out.

BERLIN.—"How are Americans treated in Berlin?" This question has been frequently asked—and the answer, at present, is that they are unmolested, and for the most part courteously received.

For a time, it is true, American officers travelling were counselled to get into mufti, rather than take chances of inciting some hot-headed trouble. In the case of couriers, mufti is worn on some trips, but those coming and going between Paris and Berlin appear in uniform and are rarely annoyed, though occasionally someone tries to crowd on a sidewalk or gives the officer an ugly look. As for civilians there are only a few here—mainly newspapermen—and they are treated respectfully.

This represents the individual situation regarding Americans. As for the United States as a whole, there is still prevalent some propaganda of an unpleasant sort. President Wilson has been condemned because the peace treaty did not develop according to the way in which the German people felt his fourteen points should have been interpreted. But there was little of personal attack against the president, and only here and there articles with an anti-American tinge. However, in the last few days, a propaganda movement—somewhat limited, but nevertheless more or less persistent—has sprung up. One hears of late that "really an American food is coming in," though it is, of course, well known to the government that money was put up by Germany even before presentation of the treaty, intended to pay for certain American government supplies. Not in all cases, however, is there complaint that America has failed to send what it agreed. On the contrary one hears now and then that the government is passing of its old better American bacon for the guards or for other purposes. In any case, the average Berliner doesn't overlook the fact that American food is helping to keep the wolf from the door when he was getting near to biting off the door-knob.

Recently one or two rather vicious articles have appeared in the press, seeking to detract from the American soldiers in the Rhine country. One in "Der Tag," for instance, averred that the Americans had introduced "wild west manners" in the occupied territory; that they drank to excess; that they ousted people from their homes and often went in, demanding "wine and blonde women." The writer referred to them as "Arizona kickers."

The above extracts, however, were overshadowed by the printed claims that women had been criminally attacked, and that one, at least had been choked to death.

The American mission had under consideration protesting against such articles, but it was understood that nothing resulted, in view of the fact that the article above mentioned, though grossly exaggerated and displeasing, was nevertheless an isolated case.

However, at about the same time, one of the German papers raised the complaint that American soldiers in the occupied area wasted meats and fats rather than allow them to fall in German hands. While the Germans made no claim that foods were theirs by any right, they argued that such waste was improper when part of the world was suffering for fats.

Music Through a Diamond

MR. EDISON'S SECRET

Mr. Edison's New Diamond Disc, Reproducer is the final achievement in the reproduction of Sound. The all-metal tone chamber gives the sound waves their full chance to amplify, as metal does not hinder their amplification.

Other phonographs use wood. But Edison tried the wood idea and abandoned it early in his experiments as it gave a mushy hollow tone and did not give the proper reproduction which he wanted.

Do not try to play Edison Records on any other phonograph as we do not guarantee them, when played on any instrument, other than the New Edison, neither does Thos. A. Edison. Edison Records are guaranteed forever on the New Edison.

Since the New Edison was announced to the public there has been several imitations of diamond point playing machines by companies who assemble phonographs. Be sure and investigate the New Edison before you buy. Come to our store and we will explain the principles of the New Edison to you.

SUMMER IS ON THE JOB.
Mr. Erasmus Fiddle, the noted mushroom expert, went out yesterday and gathered a peck of edible mushrooms of the sponge variety. Funeral will be held from the house.

Mrs. Marlene La Blanc, the buyer of the Racket Store, who is in New York to see the new styles, writes home that everything in women's wear will be higher this year—but not in the neck.

Miss Ambrosia Dockstader has taken her furs out of storage, where they have been since last fall, and is having them renovated for the hot weather.

Mr. Amos W. Feathergill and family arrived in Topeka, Kans., on a visit suddenly yesterday from Lorena, Kan. Their house and barn came with them, as well as a spring tooth drag and the front wheels of their farm wagon. Mr. Feathergill expects to remain in Topeka permanently and is looking for a place to put his house and barn. He hopes to escape the terrific spring draughts which saunter along the prairie.

The horse attached to the delivery wagon of the Busy Bee Store ate Miss Amy Stubb's new straw hat as she stood talking to Elmer Spink in front of the store yesterday.

AN OBSTACLE
He met a peach
Down at the beach.
Indeed she was a beauty.
He fell for her
Right off, yes, sir!
And forthwith pressed his suit.
The lady sighed.
And then she cried:
"You surely must forget me."
"Tis sad, but true,
I can't wed you.
My husband wouldn't let me."

SOME BRIDE! SOME GROOM!
The bride and groom presented a regal spectacle, never equaled since the proud Cleopatra sailed down the perfumed lotus-bearing Nile, in her gilded pinnace to meet Mark Antony while all the world stood agape at the unheard of triumph. To describe the bride's costume, beggars the English language, and imagination fails faint and feeble before the Herculean task. She was gorgeously arrayed in a calico house dress, and a pair of lace curtains fluted like a dream about her figure.—Rushville (Ind.) News.

A lot of people who thought they were prominent have had a rude awakening. No bombs have come to them in the mail.

One illiterate friend of ours has a wife who works the kitchen garden conscientiously every day, and he calls her his garden angel.

Robbers succeeded in getting $15,000 in a restaurant. Somebody must have been in there and eaten a square meal.

Protecting The Public

POLICE ACTION in closing gambling at a carnival now showing here is commendable. It is a protection to the public and is a rule that should be adhered to. When Chief Roush ordered four tents closed in which gambling for money was in progress last night he did a service to the city and its visitors.

UNDER A BLIND of playing for merchandise, these operatives were conducting one of the busiest "games" that has been on the streets of this city in years. Their victims had little or no chance, as was proved by the heavy odds the bankers of the game offered those playing. These odds often were 10 to one.

GAMBLING is not countenanced by our own people and transients should not have more privileges than citizens of Lima.

Competition

DID YOU EVER stop to think while performing your daily tasks that perhaps somewhere in this great country some other man or woman may be doing precisely the same thing that you are at the same moment? Did it ever occur to you that it is impossible to do anything in which you have no competition?

IF YOU HAVE considered this you probably have come to the conclusion that it behooves you to do your tasks well to maintain your position in the general order of things. If you do not you will go back, and to go back today means utter failure. If you have not realized that competition today is stronger than ever before, it is your duty to awaken, to get next to yourself.

THE DAYS when a man could "get by" and feel secure are no more. There are others to step into everyone's shoes and do things just as well or better than their predecessors. There can be no letting up now. We must go ahead or go under.

MISS LIMA: "None of the girls seem to be flirting with the real Vets."

You Can Resurface

MAIN STREET property owners will pay a fifty per cent proportion of the proposed $176,000 repaving job. The News has contended and still contends that the tearing up complete of the concrete foundation of this street is unnecessary and a waste of money. City Hall has shown by digging up the foundation at various points that in some places it is worn, just as any foundation will wear.

AGAINST THIS CITIES over the country have persistently resurfaced their main thoroughfares. The theory that the street car tracks can not be elevated is obviated by laying the old bricks flat, filling them in with cement. Taking up these brick shows where any bad condition in the concrete needs repairs, and these places are strengthened. A two-inch layer of Willite, an asphaltum surfacing harder than the using paving material is then used.

MAIN STREET will be perpetually torn up for the next ten years. This proposed new concrete foundation will be continually dug into because of new buildings. A resurfacing job on the above lines is forty per cent cheaper and the money saved is significant. No foundation will ever be better than one hammered down for years as the present one has been. City Hall should thoroughly investigate this plan before tearing the entire street to pieces.

CHIEF PLACES GAMBLING BAN

Four Places With Carnival Are Ordered by police to Stop Operations

Four places where gambling was in progress at the carnival now showing here were closed last night by Chief of Police Roush after he had made a personal inspection of the games. He declared they would be kept closed.

J. M. Sheesley, owner of the carnival gave the chief full support in his action as did H. A. R. entertainment committee.

Sheesley explained that the places were not attached to his carnival, but were merely given space there in accordance with the arrangement with the local committee. "We do not countenance this kind of work," he said, "and I was on my way to close them up when I met the chief, who had just issued orders. They would have been closed by myself if the chief had not beat me to it."

Roush said the games were running open and that the very nature of them proved that players had little or no chance. He said the odds offered often were as high as 10 to one and that big stakes were being played for.

The chief announced that gambling is not countenanced in this city, and that visitors will not be allowed more privileges.

CONFESSIONS of an EVERY DAY WIFE

BY LADY M'GLONE GIBSON

MRS. CHARLTON'S TRAGEDY

I was awakened by Ellene, who was trying to tip-toe out of the room without waking me.

"Margot," she said, "did Theo bring you some silk stockings? He gave me six wonderful pairs this morning."

"My dear, those were the ones he brought to me."

Before she could voice her mystification I told her the whole story.

At first she was indignant and then she laughed as I pictured Theo's face as I mentioned Sally's name.

"I'll bet on you, Margot," she said, "but it makes me angry to think that you have to fight for your own husband. I don't believe he is worth it, even if he is my brother."

"Why, can you not see, Ellene, that the fighting for things we want—the things we love—in this world is just what makes life interesting? Just think what a monotonous thing this world would be if we could have everything we wanted without planning and scheming and working and fighting for it."

"I am not sure that I am not more interested in Theo than I have been at any time since our marriage, now that I know that Sallie Saunders is determined to take him from me."

"Do you really think that is what she intends to do?"

"Why, of course. Just put your wits to work, Ellene, and you will see what it would mean to her to take Theo away from me. She would be revenged on me for my knowledge of her character and my failure to treat her as a sister since Tim died. She would marry into the richest and smartest family in town and—"

"Here, Margot—wait a minute," interrupted Ellene. "You do not for a moment think that girl contemplates separating you from Theo and marrying him herself?"

"I certainly do think that very thing."

"But she never looked at him before he married you."

"But you know then she was so much in love with that nasty little German spy she could see no one else."

PREVENTION OF SYPHILIS
A conservative estimate of the number of persons in America who have syphilis would give an army of syphilis rather greater than the United States army at the present time. It is also fair to estimate that one fourth of the rank and file of this vast number of syphilis patients of both sexes are innocent victims of the disease.

Syphilis is caused by a germ called the Spirochaete pallida. This germ is present in the primary sore of syphilis, the chancre, and also in the so-called mucous patches or cancer-like sores that come in the mouth and throat with the secondary stage of the disease. So far as known, syphilis is not communicable throughout its entire course, but only in the primary and secondary stage, which continues for a year or two. In the ulcers or obstinate sores appearing in the later years of syphilis there is little or no contagion—a fortunate thing for the public. I recall a cigar maker who had a syphilitic ulcer on the palm, yet continued to roll cigars of a fancy brand and market them for years, with no evidence of any infection of smokers who patronized the brand.

Prevention of syphilis in the guilty does not concern us here. We are speaking of prevention of syphilis in innocent persons.

Abe Martin

Notchikoff and Roan suggested in 1906 that if one who has been exposed to syphilis will rub well into the area of contact an ointment containing 25 per cent of calomel, the infection is much less liable to occur. These authorities advised that the skin so treated should first be thoroughly washed with soap and water.

Kissing has been the means of conveyance of thousands of cases of innocent syphilis. Unfortunately for the innocent party, one with active syphilis may appear very cleanly and healthy and may be of irreproachable character and high moral standing. There is nothing at all snobbish about this disease and nothing immoral about it. Doctors and nurses attending persons with syphilis may acquire the infection through any trifling abrasion about the fingers. Barbers are subject to the same risk. Dentists must be particularly careful.

Handling a pencil or other object just taken from the mouth of a person with syphilis is certainly a risky thing, besides being a disgusting thing. Handling a program smeared with saliva from a man's thumb, or a transfer indirectly expected upon by a conductor, or drinking from a soda glass washed in the customary unsanitary way of the soda fountain in a rush of business, certainly subjects one to a chance of infection with syphilis, especially if there be a trifling scratch or sore or abrasion about the fingers, lips or tongue.

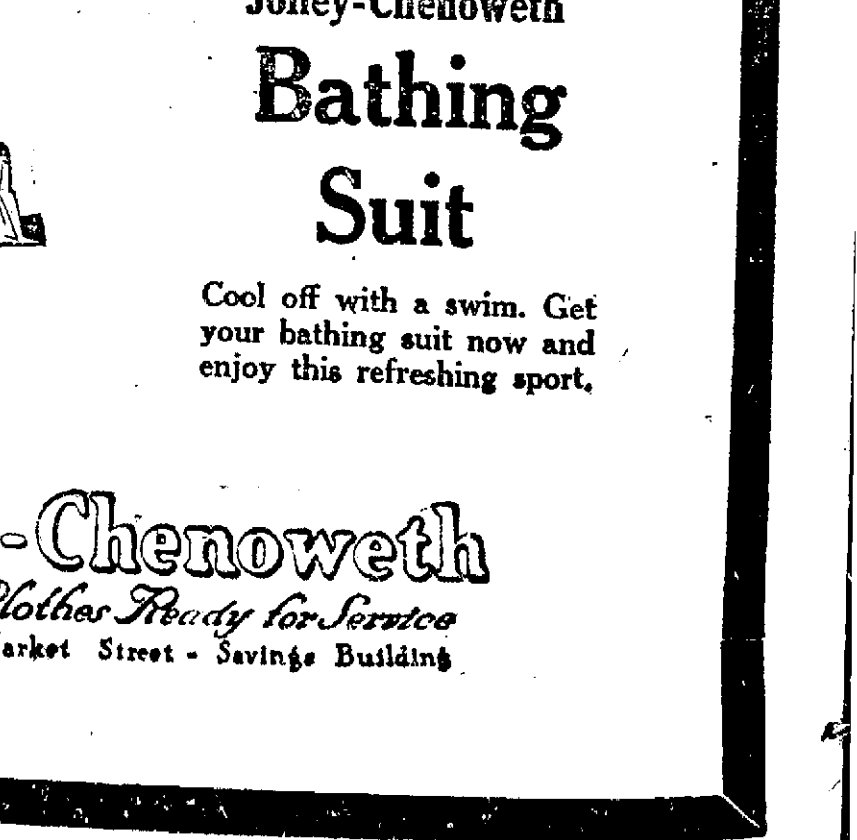

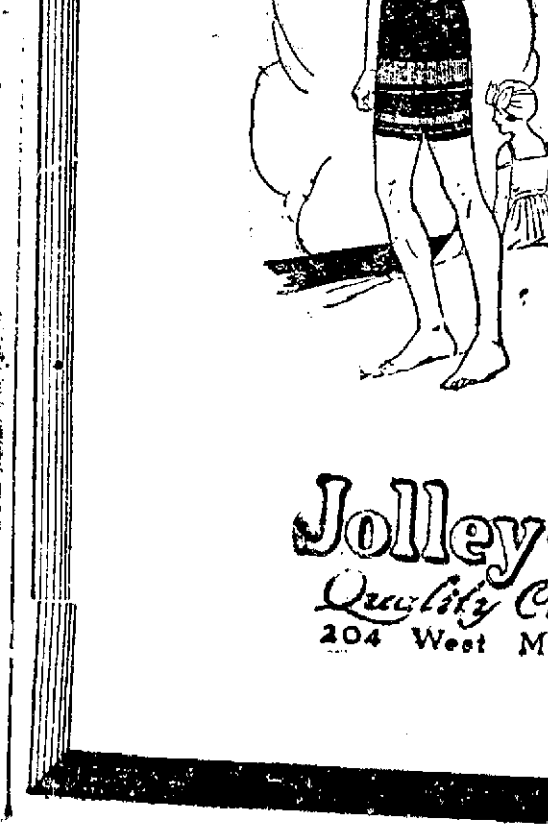

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
The Nose and the Ear

1. Does mucus in the nose have any effect on the ear?
2. Do tonsils ever grow back in after being removed?
3. Has constipation any direct effect on the tonsils?

ANSWER—1. Mucus is the normal secretion of any mucous membrane such as that which lines the nasal and ear cavities. Infections or inflammations of the nasal passages or throat often involve the Eustachian tube and the cavity of the ear. In fact, the business part of the ear should be considered a more branch or offshoot of the nose cavity. Nearly all serious ear troubles are secondary to infection or inflammation in the nose cavity.
2. If any portion of tonsil tissue is left in the throat, it may undergo enlargement later, in a young person, if the original cavity hygiene is not corrected.
3. No.

Chronic Appendicitis
Is there any way to overcome chronic appendicitis without having an operation? (C. L. B.)

ANSWER—I know of no cure except removal of the appendix. Many cases of chronic appendicitis are ultimately relieved to recovery without operation. It is important for one so affected to make sure that every possible focus of infection, such as silent dental root infections, infected tonsils and the like shall be removed. A large share of all

RIGHT TO WEAR HIS SUSPENDERS HOLDS IN COURT

Church Boycott Against Amish Farmer Enjoined — Can Have Auto, Too.

MILLERSBURG, O.—Eli Ginerich, wealthy Amish farmer near Millersburg is wearing suspenders, happy in the thought that a jail sentence awaits any neighbor who tries to make him take 'em off.

"I have won a great victory in the courts," said Ginerich, "but I won't be spiteful about it. The court decision is that members of the Amish Mennonite church are permanently enjoined from continuing their boycott of me because I wear suspenders and own an automobile.

"I'm not going to 'rub it in' on my neighbors, however. I'll wear suspenders that have no buckles or other metal on them. I have cut holes in the ends of the straps and fasten them to buttons on my pants.

"Some years ago when I was forced to get out of the David Miller Old Amish Mennonite church because I insisted I had a right to dress as I chose, the church heads said they thought a compromise could be effected.

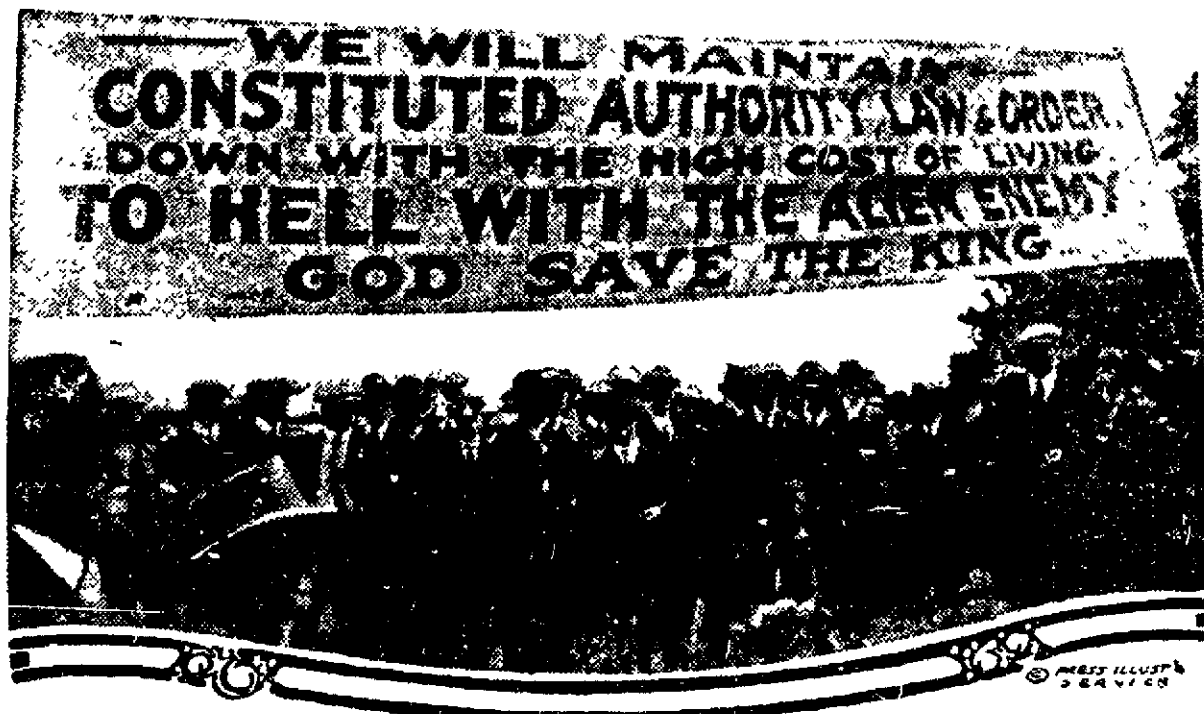

"They said the sin of wearing suspenders would be washed away if I wouldn't cross the straps in the back.

"So my wife and I uncrossed the straps.

SUSPENDERS' BAN RENEWED

"Then after a time, the leaders of the church said they had been mistaken about uncrossed suspenders being not sinful. They said I'd have

SIGN TELLS HOW CANADIAN WORKERS STAND AGAINST BOLSHEVIK UPRISING

Sign carried by workers in parade in Winnipeg. Carried by a group of workers, many of whom are returned soldiers, the sign above told frankly how the workers and war veterans of Canada stand against the Red faction which is promoting strikes and general unrest throughout Canada. The sign was carried in an immense loyalty parade recently staged to pledge support of the marchers to the Canadian government.

to quit wearing them altogether and go back to the old cloth belt that the church endorses.

"I wouldn't comply with the order. The belt hurt me.

"The fight then was on. I joined a new branch of the church which permitted me to wear the suspenders and own an automobile, but the older church put a ban on me.

"They decreed that no member of the church should have any dealing with me. sell me anything or buy anything from me, eat with me or work with me.

"I stood this boycotting for years.

then I decided to get an injunction it got.

"I am now waiting for the preachers to notify members of their church that they must treat me all right again."

FIRST COURT ACTION

The Ginerich "boycott" case records the first time the Amish Mennonite church has figured in Ohio courts, altho the sect settled in the eastern part of Holmes county in 1811.

Nearly the entire eastern half of Holmes county is owned by the Amish Mennonites.

They confine themselves entirely to farming.

Judge E. B. Kinkead of Columbus heard the injunction suit of Ginerich against the church.

Judge Kinkead's written opinion, enjoining the further boycotting of Ginerich, deals exhaustively with the peculiar customs of the Amish Mennonites.

The members don't have church buildings but meetings are held in the different homes and in their barns.

The members of the sect speak only German among themselves.

"These people live the lives of community recluses," says Judge Kinkead in his decision.

"They have not come in contact with the outer world or with the enlightenment and blessings of modern Christian civilization.

"They are allowed freedom and shelter under our constitution liberty of conscience and religion, but they cling to their mother tongue and their ancient customs.

"Their customs are such as to prevent their children from becoming educated like other American citizens."

RIGHT TO SUSPENDERS

In deciding the case in favor of Ginerich, Judge Kinkead says:

"He has a right to dress as he pleases; he has the right to wear suspenders, to own an automobile, and to be a modern citizen if he chooses."

The church is opposed to war. Of the 140 young Amish men who were drafted into the military service during the recent war only two would shave off their beards and get into uniform. Ten or 12 of them are now in military prison for refusal to obey any and all orders at Camp Sherman.

An Amishman can ride in a buggy but not in one with a top. The men wear gray clothes, fastened with hoo' and eyes instead of buttons, while the women wear one-piece dresses that reach to the ground, usually black or green, and black bonnets.

Mrs. Ginerich refused to pose for a photo.

"I've never yet sinned and I'm too old to begin sinning now by having my picture taken," she said in German.

Woman and Her Work

An interesting wedding occurred at the Immanuel Lutheran church at high noon Thursday when Miss Clara Zulliger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Zulliger of 622 south Central avenue, became the bride of Robert Dewey Kemmer, son of C. G. Kemmer, of 775 west North street. The ceremony which was the double ring service was performed by Rev. A. E. Day.

The couple took their places at the altar of palms and roses to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march beautifully played by Miss Bertha Braun. During the ceremony she played very softly "A Perfect Day." Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Creviston, brother-in-law and sister of the bride acted as best man and maid of honor. Miss Esther Kemmer was bridesmaid and Fred Zulliger, brother of the bride, acted as the bridegroom's attendant.

The bride wore a charming creation of white tulle with a veil and cap of orange blossoms caught with the same. She carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Creviston's costume was of peach color tulle and she wore a corsage of Killarney roses. Miss Kemmer's costume was of white satin and crepe de chine and she carried pink roses.

Immediately following the ceremony a dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents to the immediate families and friends. The centerpiece of the table was of pink roses and favors were of the same. Covers were laid for: Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Zulliger, G. G. Kemmer, Misses Lela and Esther Kemmer, Fred Zulliger, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hentze, and sons Robert and Ralph, Mrs. Margaret Zulliger, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Creviston, Donald Ruitland, Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Day, Arthur Zulliger, and Bertha Braun.

The couple left immediately for a motor trip through Indiana and Illinois. They will be at home to their many friends after June 28th at 775 west North.

The many friends of Gus DeCamp, of 248 east North street, will be pleased to learn of his marriage to Clara Annabauer, of Hume, which took place in Wapakoneta, Saturday morning, June 14th.

The S. C. D. club was charmingly entertained Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. M. Finckh, at McBeth's park. The afternoon was spent in games, boating, and refreshments. High scores were held by Mrs. J. Cashman, who was awarded a dairy prize. At the close of the afternoon of entertainment a three course luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Alva Finckh.

Those enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. Finckh were: Mesdames A. DeCurtis, Max Falk, Jerry Cashman, E. N. Seiber, P. E. Wells, Victor Cardost, W. A. Wagner, H. J. Ellerman, Earl Snyder, W. P. Railing and J. J. Malloy.

The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. J. J. Malloy, of south Elizabeth street.

A delightful Garden Party was given Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Merton Sealts, of west Market street. When they entertained a number of friends complimenting Vane Sullivan, who has recently returned from overseas and in celebration of their 17 wedding anniversary. At 6 o'clock a delicious dinner was served. The tables which were laid in the attractive flower garden at the Sealts home were centered with huge baskets of flowers tied with tulle. Bridge was played through the evening with Dr. Frank Steiner, Mrs. Earl Sealts and Mrs. T. J. Hoffman, holding high score. There were two out of town guests in attendance Mrs. Gough, of Canada, and Mrs. Guy Scott, of Cleveland.

WHITE FROCK FOR SUMMER PARTIES

By ELOISE.

Every woman can wear white. To some women it is more becoming than others, to be sure. But there is something about the immaculate white frock, the white suit or the white coat or hat that is so wondrously attractive, that the white outfit is a joy even when worn by the woman who might possibly appear robust or more youthful or more distinguished or more something else in some other color scheme. Every woman ought to wear white some time.

But now white has suddenly become amazingly fashionable. It was not one of those fashions that was predicted very generally, but suddenly at the spring resorts where women of wealth usually contrive to set the fashions that the rest of the world shall follow during later warm months, these women began wearing white and then more white. Not only white frocks and white hats were ordered from dressmakers and milliners, but there were hurry orders for white coats and wraps, white woolen gulls and white everything else.

This charming frock of white satin is a most acceptable costume for a garden party or summer fete. Its rounded design and plaited ruffles and many covered buttons form the trimming, which confines itself to the sides of the frock, the front and back being plain panels. Floating georgette sleeves and a touch of rose at the waist are artistic finishing touches. The large hat is satin braided in rose color.

WARN WORKERS AGAINST TREATY

Pact Opponents Would Array
Toolers Against Labor
Cause

WASHINGTON — American labor is to be warned to distrust and fear the provisions of the peace treaty providing for an international labor organization, senators opposing the treaty said today.

In speeches soon to be delivered in the senate, the labor addendum to the treaty is to come under fire. This will be one of the first attacks on the treaty provisions outside the league of nations covenant. Those assailing the labor plan will assert, it is said, that the elaborate plan provided for internationalization of labor problems means that American labor will be constantly in court fighting for its protection; that this means great disturbance because of the uncertainty regarding settlement of questions vital to the workers of this country, and that it naturally will follow that labor's prosperity will wane.

In addition, it is to be argued, senators said, that the labor chapter gives Europe and Asia the opportunity to combine against the United States to force down labor standards here. The seaman's law will be endangered; immigration will be brought before the league of nations; cheap labor will be dumped on the United States, senators declared, if foreign nations unite to force their labor views upon this country, where labor standards are so much higher.

Senator Reed, Missouri, and other senators are preparing speeches on this phase of the treaty.

The senate set ninety days as the time for return.

Will Be First Event Of New Organization

With everything in readiness for the boxing bouts scheduled for this evening, the Lima Athletic club will stage its first sport event of the year.

Three bouts totaling thirty rounds have been arranged for and give promise of some lively glove work. With two local boys mixed up in two of the numbers, the Lima fans should not be wanting in an opportunity to give some one some real support.

Mike O'Leary, local artist will engage Knock out Brown well known to Lima sport men, for the big bout of the evening. This contest will be keenly watched, for it will be a test of merit between the old and experienced pugilist and the newer and less trained youngster. Despite the fact that he may be handicapped by lack of experience, the Lima lad promises a good fight.

Promptly at eight o'clock, the gong is scheduled to ring for the first event. More than 2,000 fans are expected to be in attendance at the event, according to the management, while they also expect to materially swell the membership roll of the club.

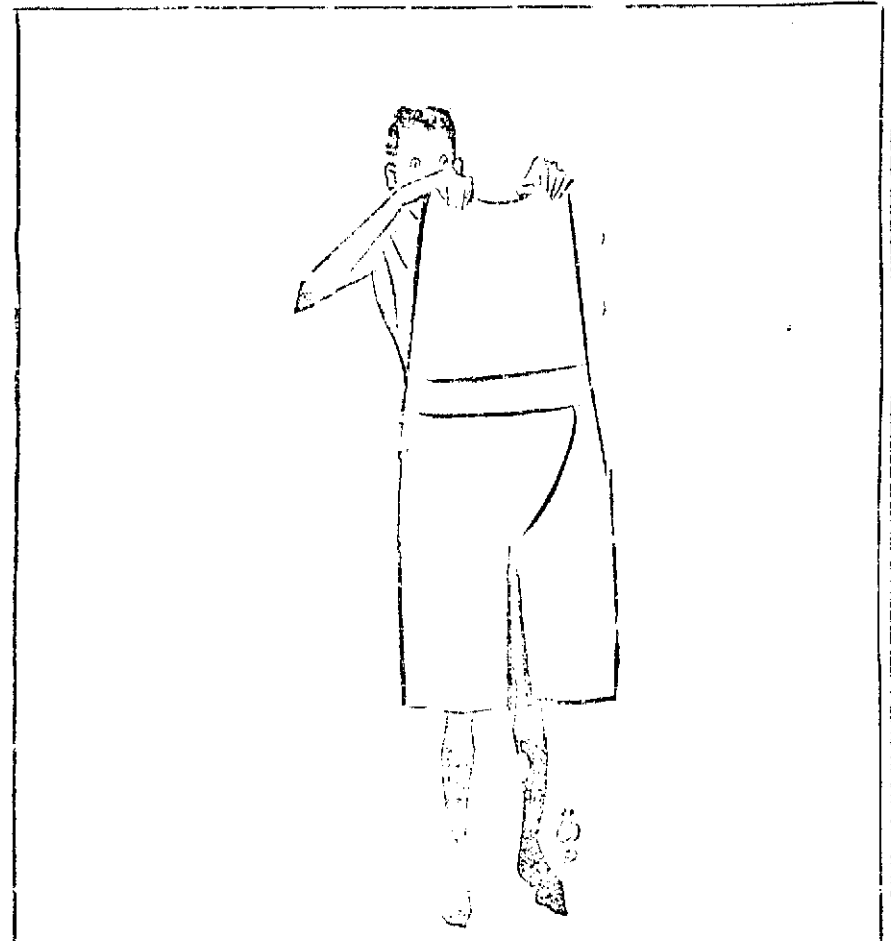

Freddie Hammond of Detroit and Webb of Dayton, will form the second match while Kid Hindoo of local fame, and Young Klur of Toledo, will mix for the remaining grid.

In case of rain, the management has secured the Auditorium on west High street, for the three bouts. In no case will they be postponed to a later date, they say.

SPORT SNAP SHOTS :

It isn't every player who can cope with Ty Cobb. We'll say so. Yet in St. Louis, years ago, there was a quiet, modest little catcher named Paul Krichell, who evolved out of his own vast brain a means of circumventing the wily and fugacious fly. One afternoon Cobb was on first, as is his custom when the chance looks half-way good, he broke for second. Krichell, wild to make the peg, dropped the ball hurriedly picking it up, he slammed the pill across to third, shouting: "Get him when he comes around there!" and, sure as fate, Cobb, trying to annex an extra base on the misadventure arrived at third only to find the ball waiting for him in the third baseman's beathery hand!

In a recent Memphis-Birmingham game, Red Smith, Memphis catcher, out with injuries, put on a Birmingham spare uniform to work out. Then Manager Barger of Memphis called him in as a pinch hitter in the rival club's top. Naturally there was a protest, but umpire Dan Prentner would not allow it.

Ernest Quigley undoubtedly is the best fielding umpire on the National League staff. The average diamond judge, working on the bases and posted back of the initial corner with no one on the sacks, is prone to duck hard hit foul balls that come his way, but Quigley isn't of that type. Quite recently in a game played on the Polo grounds Quigley made a superb stop of a blazing foul boulder, while the fans cheered, and in the fifth inning of a recent game in Cincinnati he made an equally fine stop of an equally hard hit ball. This time the fans booed loudly, as an inning before he had called a Red out at second base on a close play.

DEMPESEY'S WEIGHT INCREASED

BY H. C. HAMILTON
United Press Staff Correspondent

50 — Jack Dempsey — money made a renewed appearance here today with much more weight than he carried when he stepped on a set of scales at his training quarters and shot the indicator point to 201 pounds, far more than any follower of fight things here had expected of him.

Opponents of the challenger's chances with the gigantic champion have been predicting that Dempsey would wear himself to a shadow with his strenuous methods of training, and that he would fall a quick victim to exhaustion by being trained so fine.

WEIGHT MORE

As a matter of fact, Dempsey weighs about 13 pounds more right now than when he met and defeated Fred Fulton in less than a round at Harrison, N. J., last fall. And he is in better condition considered from every standpoint. The fact that he has been able to put on weight while going through such grueling training as he has tackled since starting in on the long grind for the Willard battle speaks volumes for his ability and the folks hereabouts were not slow to realize it.

When the two heavies meet on July 4 there will be about 40 pounds difference in their weights, providing reports from Willard's camp can be taken at their face value. This is about the same margin that existed when Tom Sharkey and Jim Jefferies met in their memorable scrap at Coney Island, and Sharkey, though the smaller of the two, was able to present such an argument to the Champion Jefferies that many witnesses of the affair claim to this day that Sharkey should have been awarded the decision.

CONDITION ASSURED

There need be no fear regarding the condition of the challenger following this most startling thing. He will be there. His general condition could not be better than it is right now, and that is now drawing himself too fine for the big effort is well proven by the silent testimony of the scales. Little less surprising was the ease with which Joe Chip, Pennsylvania middleweight, was able to pound Willard's chin during his first experience as a sparring mate for the big champion. Of course too much stress must not be laid on this fact, for Willard was doing little leading himself. He was contented to be on the receiving end of the punches, confining his efforts at blocking. But Chip was at him with such speed that the unwieldy champion could not protect himself from the snappy wallops and fast short arm smashes the smaller man directed at him.

Dempsey is faster than Chip, if anything, and, of course, hits with vastly more power. If Chip has no trouble in reaching Willard's vital points, it is a clutch that other will Dempsey, unless Willard's forecast aggressiveness fights Dempsey off his feet into a defensive of his own. DEFENSIVE FIGHTER

Willard announced himself many years ago as a cool, calm man in the ring, one who is willing to wait many minutes for an antagonist to carry the fight to him. He has even indicated that he will play this kind of a game with Dempsey, although the purpose of such conversation may be for effect only. But if Chip's appearance yesterday is anything to go by, Jess will have little luck from making such a fight.

There was a lot of "I knew him when" stuff floating about today, reminiscent of the days in Reno

Powerful Pile Remedy Discovered

Now Never Failed to Find Most Obsolete Cause of Piles in Few Days

For years it has been proven that so-called external remedies applied to or inserted in the rectum cannot cure piles and at the best can only give temporary relief. Surgical operations also do not remove this cause, but simply the formation.

This wonderful prescription, known as Mira Pile Remedy, is so efficient in the treatment of piles, that even chronic cases of from 20 to 30 years standing with profuse bleeding have been completely cured in from three to ten days. Think of it! Just a few doses of a really balanced prescription and the most persistent case of piles is absorbed, never to return.

But need you hurry? Henry J. Stone of the Lotum Clinic, Erie, Pa. Department 3025.

"I had bleeding and protruding piles for three years and tried all kinds of remedies without result, but was then completely cured after taking one bottle of Mira."

— Frank J. Phillips of Bird Island, Missouri, says:

"I used Mira a bottle of Mira. It cured my hemorrhoids. I no longer suffer with bleeding and protruding piles. I never regretted the money I paid for Mira. I would now give it to anyone I would have used the whole bottle, but it was not necessary."

All recent attacks of Mira, or an old one, for you on short notice. Simply it is worth the little trouble to obtain it to be rid of piles forever.

IMPORTANT — What is known as Mira Pile Remedy is not Mira Pile Remedy in the true sense of the word, although this condition may accompany a true case of Mira Pile Remedy. For this condition, Mira Pile Remedy has been prepared as in such cases it is not necessary to take the internal prescription. Lotum's Drug Stores.

when Jefferies was trying so hard to get himself in condition for his battle with Jack Johnson. Outwardly it will be recalled, Jefferies was in the best of shape but his internal spots were wrecked and could not be repaired. It is not probable that Willard is in this kind of shape, but it is obvious that he is not making open-door policy of his training. It leaked out today that he has been keeping away from road work because of the heat, but Dempsey has been taking his daily grind.

OHIO SUPPLY MEASURES HELD UP BY DEMOCRATS

COLUMBUS — The refusal of the Republican senate either to confirm or reject any of Gov. Cox's appointments to places carrying salaries resulted in the Democratic house minority today preventing passage of the sundries appropriations bill containing items aggregating $500,000.

House Democrats, in caucus, decided they would force the senate Republicans to take a position one way or the other on the Cox appointments.

Seeing defeat ahead for the sundries bill, Republican House Leader Beetham carried a motion postponing action. The bill won't come up again until December, unless the house reconsiders its action today. The most important item was one for $90,000 for a state home and school for crippled children.

REGATTA OF 1917 CANCELED

The spring of 1917 saw America enter the war and the regatta was cancelled. In 1918 it was decided to revive the races, but not to go back to New London. The regatta was taken to the Housatonic, and Harvard won both the varsity and the freshman races. There was some idle talk of giving up New London for good. But with the return of peace and with calm consideration taking the place of war hysteria it was seen that the Thames was the only place for the regatta.

The Harvard-Yale races on Friday will be the fifty-second since the college rowed their first regatta on Lake Whippesaukee, at Centre Harbor, N. H., back in 1852. Those early races were over short courses. In 1875 New London became the scene of the annual struggles. To date Harvard has won 38 varsity races and Yale 25, so this year's contest presents to the Blue the opportunity to even the score.

To Keep Away Teeth Stains and Tartar

Why is it so many persons, no matter how regularly they use the tooth brush, have unsightly stains and tartar on their teeth? The stains are discolored films which the usual dentifrices are powerless to remove with any amount of rubbing and scrubbing. And these greasy films, besides being so offensive to the eye are a source of real danger. Beneath them germs find a fruitful breeding place—germs which are the principal cause of tooth decay, soreness and softening of the gums, besides producing digestive and intestinal disturbances.

Those who realize the seriousness of this condition will be glad to know they can easily remove every stain or discoloration—and prevent the formation of more films (or "plaques" as the dentists call them), as well as tartar, by using a wonderful new product, "Once-a-Week Tooth Polish." Nothing else will so thoroughly clean the teeth, banish every ugly tint, and give that sparkling pearly whiteness so much admired. "Once-a-Week Tooth Polish" which any druggist can supply, is perfectly harmless to the teeth, it is invaluable in the care of children's teeth.

Pure Paint

You can depend on paint made of pure white-lead and pure linseed oil. It gives greatest covering power and longest wear. Dutch Boy white-lead, mixed with pure linseed oil, makes weatherproof paint. For interiors, it assures a beautiful, smooth surface, easily washed. Any tint.

Short Shavings

Two army officers, while ballooning, lost trace of their whereabouts and, wishing to ascertain what part of the country they were passing over, descended, until they came within hailing distance of a couple of farmers. When nearly overhead one of the officers called out: "Hi there, Johnny, can you tell us where we are?" The rustic gazed up at them in much amazement. Thinking he had not heard, one of the officers shouted again, louder than before. "Where are we?" "Why you're in a balloon, ain't ye?" What the officers said when they heard this would probably spoil the story.

We all have our blue days. In the treatment of them we can all, however take a lesson from Mr. Jones. Read his letter: "Your letter came. Glad you bought a pair of horses. Hilda is sick. She has diphtheria, and she will die, I think. Clara died this eve. She had it, too. We are quarantined. Five of Fisher's family have got it. My wife is sick. If this thing gets worse we may have to get a doctor. Them trees is budding good. Everything is O. K."

"Yes, sir," boasted the hotel proprietor, "that dog's the best rat-catcher in the country." Even as he spoke two big rats scurried across the office floor. The dog merely wrinkled his nose. "Rat dog!" scoffed the traveling man. "Look at that, will you?" "Huh," snorted the landlord. "He knows them. But just you let a strange rat come in here once!"

MAV BAN SWIMMING. DELPHOS—Swimming may be prohibited at the old swimmer's hole, one of the most popular resorts in Delphos and vicinity, if the men, boys and some women, do not don the necessary equipment before entering. This resort is in the Auglaize river, and is commonly known as "Minor Long's."

NEW LEAGUE IS OPPOSED BY THE OHIO GRANGERS

Methods of the Non-Partisan Organization Will Be Fought.

BARNESVILLE, O.—The Ohio State Grange, with its 82,000 members, is opposed to the methods of the Nonpartisan League as now practiced in North Dakota.

When organizers from the Nonpartisan League come into Ohio this summer to urge farmers to join together in an effort to secure control of the state government, they will find Ohio grangers fighting them.

The busy headquarters of the Ohio State Grange are on a farm a mile and a half east of Barnesville. The owner of the farm is Louis J. Taber, who has been president of the organization since 1914.

"We have no sympathy with the methods of the Nonpartisan League," Taber said. "The league wants the state government to do for the farmer everything that should be done for him. The grange wants legislation that will enable the farmers to do for themselves everything that should be done for the advancement of agricultural interests."

"The league favors state socialism. The grange favors pure co-operation among farmers."

"In North Dakota the state, controlled by the league, owns the grain elevators, the wine mills and the terminals. In Ohio, the grange wants legislation that will permit the farmers to own these things themselves."

CO-OPERATIVE BUYING. "We are now working," Taber continued, "on a vast scheme for co-operative buying and selling among the farmers of Ohio."

There are seven binders on the market but all of them are controlled by the International Harvester Co., and the price of each of the seven is approximately the same.

"What we propose to do thru our $2,000,000 grange in Ohio and the hundreds of thousands in other states, is to throw our business to some concern that will compete with the International Harvester Co. figure, is the only way in which we can bring down the price of binders and other farm machinery."

"We already have been able to compete successfully with the International in the matter of binder twine. Grangers in four states have formed a buying agency and last year we bought and distributed among our members nearly 5,500,000 pounds of twine."

WHAT GRANGE FAVORS. The grange now favors: All the good roads possible. Private ownership of railroads, but with strict government regulation.

Private ownership for the merchant marine, but fair prices for all ships bought from the government.

A state income and graduated automobile tax.

Tariff protection for farm products.

A direct inheritance tax. "The grange," said Taber, "is doing more than any other agency to keep young men and women on the farm. We are constantly backing educational and agricultural contests that keep up a keen interest among the young people."

LONG WAITING IS REWARDED

Russ Husband Returns After Five Years of Absence From Home

BY PEGGY HULL

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN SIBERIA. Companionship is nothing short of an art with the Russian women. They are domestic and make their homes happy dwelling places. While I was visiting a village where American troops were quartered, I met the wife of a Russian officer. He had left his wife in August, 1914, and gone to the eastern front. She had never heard from him.

She was attractive and gracious. Her home was the gathering place of the allied officers, and no doubt she had many proposals. But she was fiercely loyal to the past.

I went to call one evening with two Americans and we found two Russian officers, the Japanese commandant of the garrison, and a French aviator. While we were drinking tea and chatting someone knocked at the door. Madame went herself.

There was a shriek, and we all rushed out expecting to find her the victim of a Bolshevik. Instead we saw her in the arms of a haggard, emaciated, ragged man. Her husband had come back! All the way from a prison camp in Germany. A 6,000 mile journey without a ruble or a ration.

While this is only one example of a Russian woman's devotion, those who have lived here many years tell me it is typical of the women in general, and that there is no sacrifice too great—no suffering too intense for them to bear, if it will aid their families and their country.

PLAN ROAD WORK. ST. MARYS—Plans and specifications for four important road improvements will be submitted July 1, to the county commissioners. The roads are the Glynnwood-New Knoxville, the New Bremen-Kettlersville, the St. Marys-Montezuma, the St. Marys River road. More than a million dollars worth of Auglaize county road work is planned.

DELPHOS MAN INJURED. DELPHOS—Adam Knepper, Delphos, was struck by a freight car, while switching at Ft. Jennings on the Clover Leaf railroad. He was taken to the hospital in Frankfort Wednesday evening. His right hip was fractured and he sustained several minor injuries.

ADJUDGED INSANE. Bertie Davies, wife of Albert Davies, 124 west Kibby street, was adjudged insane at a lunacy inquest held in probate court Thursday morning. The hearing developed that she was the victim of a hallucination that she was being sought by several men who threatened to kill her. She was committed to a hospital in Toledo.

SENATOR INJURED. SIOUX FALLS, S. D.—United States Senator Thomas P. Gore, of Oklahoma, injured in an automobile accident near here late yesterday, expected to leave for Washington today. Senator Gore was riding from Mitchell to Sioux Falls to catch a train. The machine turned over. His shoulder was bruised.

DECIDEDLY DIFFERENT. Ask for GRAHAM'S ICE CREAM. It is made rich and clean, smooth as velvet. Our cows are now on full grass and we are producing purest cream ever. GRAHAM'S ICE CREAM is sold in more than one hundred places in Lima and you will find it much better than last year when we had to use corn sugar instead of good granulated sugar. Insist on dealer giving you GRAHAM'S ICE CREAM as it is decidedly different than all others.

WEST MARKET STREET

The Tanks

The tank inspired a wholesome fear in the enemy ranks. It lumbered irresistibly into wire entanglements and blotted them out; it charged clumsily into machine gun nests and obliterated them.

The tank was an adaptation of the Yankee farm tractor. Its strong points were stamina and endurance. These good, American qualities are found also in
